Another Birthday!

ON THE FRONT PAGE of today's issue, below the heading, there will be seen these words, "Vol. 60—No. 1." Readers will understand that this signifies the beginning of a new year in the life of this paper. Established in 1892—fifty-nine years ago—the paper has completed its fifty-ninth year, and today's issue is the beginning of its sixtieth year.

Friends have been with us a long while; stick with us and we'll try to make it go for another fifty-nine years!

Cause or Effect?

IN OLDEN DAYS—when it was sort of incumbent upon people to cultivate their own mental faculties, and before athletics became recognized as the chief guide to right living—the rural debating club had its place in community life.

Men met regularly in the old log school house on appointed evenings to what their intelligence in discussion of which-is-what. Jasper Holley was one of the chief disputants, and brought up many practical and vital questions for consideration. He propped and pushed the problem of "pull-and-push." The question involved was whether a horse attached to a cart pulled or pushed his load. Men got excited about the little difference.

The "pullers" declared that, because the horse was ahead of the cart, he was pulling his load; the "pushers" held out that the horse pushed with his shoulders—the strain was in front—therefore he pushed the cart.

Was the subject worth discussion?

On the front of cars in our streets recently we have observed tags which read, "Good Schools Make Good Communities." We recalled Jasper Holley and wished he might answer the question, "Do good schools make good communities, or do good communities make good schools?" Are good schools obtained by "pulling" on the part of those financially interested, or "pushing" on the part of those who pay the bills? Don't answer the question from where you stand, but who are the people who are most vehement for better schools and higher pay? Who are the people who find greatest virtue in athletics and physical prowess in the educational realm?

Recently we read in the papers about a game of basketball some two hundred miles distant from a certain place which continued for two weeks. A group of athletes from one of the contesting communities went there to prove their capacity to throw a large-size ball into the open mouth of a large-size basket. Three hundred and fifty admirers turned away from their home affairs and went along to give "moral" backing to their favorite team. The noises on the field were heard the full two hundred miles, and at the close one man was knocked down on the field in a fistfight over the dispute as to who did what. (Four or five members of the team had been imported from another state.)

Who makes better schools? Who makes better communities? If physical training is an essential, why give it to those who are already as best physically developed? Why not give it to those who are deficient—and who need physical betterment? Jasper Holley would bring that matter up for discussion in his old debating club.

High Grade Heifer To Be Given Away

Bautena, a Guernsey dairy heifer, will be given to some lucky ticket holder on May 12. Gerald D. Groover, manager of the East Georgia Trading Post, announced Saturday, Mr. Groover asked the 4-H Club to again co-operate with him in a feeding demonstration, but this time it is a dairy heifer donated by the Banks Dairy Farm.

The clubsters are selling chances on the heifer that are also good for 25 cents on any 100 pounds of Purina chow at the Trading Post. The heifer will be given away on May 12. Mr. Groover stated.

The 4-H Club co-operated with Mr.

Groover last fall on a hog feeding demonstration, Ike and Mike. Mr. Groover gave them Mike, the hog that proved the need for a protein supplement in the daily ration. The clubsters sold tickets on Mike and raised $228.75 which they used to pay a part on the 4-H Foundation project at Rock Eagle lake. They hope to raise some money on Beaumont to carry on their county activities through the year.

Capt. Leland Riggs Has Refresher Course

Fort Bliss, Texas.—Captain Leland Riggs, of 229 Broad street, Statesboro, Ga., is among the officers of Battery rank attending a refresher course at this post. The course, second in a series planned for this year, deals with the employment of anti-aircraft artillery, straining material and gunnery. Capt. Riggs, who will be here for four weeks' study, is a graduate of Statesboro High School and first entered military service in 1940. He is a warrant officer's overseas duty in the Pacific.

HAGAN DISCUSSES CONTROL OF PRICES

He Invites The Public To Report To District Office Any Flagrant Violations

Residents of the more than sixty counties under the jurisdiction of the Savannah district office of the Price Stabilization were urged today by G. Elliott Hagan, acting director, to report any complaints of illegal price increases.

"Already there have been instances across the nation where individuals are showing their disdain of the law of the land," Mr. Hagan said. "With the general public lending wholehearted support, our battle to beat-inflation through control of prices will not fail. It is our desire to have full co-operation without having to resort to enforcement." Mr. Hagan declared, but he emphasized the Savannah office "will thoroughly investigate every complaint."

Complaints already reported to some offices include illegal decreases in the size of loaves of bread; car dealers who allegedly are deliberately lowering their valuation on "trade-in" or loading new cars with accessories, and alleged "side payments" above the list price for automobiles. "It may be that some business men are not familiar with the ceiling price regulations, this early in the program, but anyone doubtful of their pricing position should immediately consult our office," Mr. Hagan concluded.

When Nasty Colds Leave You WEAK AND RUNDOWN HADACOL CAN HELP

If Your System Lacks Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, Which HADACOL Contains

When a nasty cold leaves you in a weakened and run-down condition, HADACOL can help build you up if your system is lacking in vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and iron, important elements contained in HADACOL. Many folks have found that this fine family formula helps overcome these deficiencies and soon they feel good again.

Mrs. A. Jimenez, 141 East 15th St., Fort Arthur, Texas, gave HADACOL to her young son, Floyd, after he had recovered from a bad cold. When she heard how HADACOL was helping Floyd suffering from deficiencies of vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and iron, it helped him so much in regaining his strength and energy that Mrs. Jimenez says she is always going to have HADACOL on hand for Floyd.

Here is Mrs. Jimenez's statement: "My son Floyd was very subject to colds. He's eleven years old, and he was run-down, didn't seem to have an appetite at all and just simply lacked energy. I heard about HADACOL on the radio, and it was just this time that Floyd was just recovering from a siege of a bad cold. He was very run-down, lacked an appetite, and I started giving him HADACOL. After about a bottle and a half could no longer find an improvement. His appetite picked up and he had increased strength. I think HADACOL has done wonders for Floyd, and can't praise it enough. I have continued to give him HADACOL and intend to always have it on hand for Floyd."

Men, women and children of all ages are praising HADACOL for supplying vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and iron which their systems lack. Don't let that "After-Cold Run-down Feeling" drag you down—HADACOL can help you too. If you suffer such deficiencies, Sold on a strict money-back guarantee. You'll feel great after the first few bottles you take or your money back. Total cost, $1.25; large family economy size, $2.50.

Motion Picture Explains Federal Reserve System

The history and philosophy of the federal reserve system and the methods by which it is designed to cushion the effects of economic upheavals are explained in a new educational motion picture.

In layman's language, the film "The Federal Reserve System" points out the disastrous effect a money panic has on the economic system and how a temporary money shortage, such as that in 1907, could have been eliminated by a federal banking organization.

The origin of the federal reserve system in such financial crises is examined and its development in the debates of 1912-1913 period is shown in dramatic sequences from the lives of Woodrow Wilson, Carter Glass, and other American statesmen who led the fight for national banking legislation. The third section of the film discusses the 1933 period when the federal reserve act was modified to provide additional security against a depression such as that of 1929.

The film describes how the reserve system can influence economic stability by increasing or decreasing the rediscounting rate on commercial paper; changing the legal requirements on the ratio of reserves to deposits in the member banks; and by its own buying and selling of government securities on the open market.

The story of the federal reserve system is told in the film through the use of dramatic incident plus the use of a few animated drawings. In the production, emphasis was placed on casting to achieve as great a similarity as possible between the actors and the characters portrayed.

A great portion of the dialogue in the film is historically authentic, having been taken from reports, biographies, diaries, and other sources of exact verbal records. Many of the sets used in the film also were reproduced to be authentic to the last detail.

Modernization of Homes Reduces Scald Fatalities

Here's evidence that the good old days in some respects weren't so good after all. Forty years ago the loss of life through scalds or burns was seven times as high as it is today. Even as recently as the period of 1936 to 1940 the average death rate was double that of 1949. The improvement is due largely to the modernization of the American home with its improved heating, cooking, and lighting facilities.

The trend reflects in some measure the effect of consistent and widespread education for safety, and the marked advances which medical science has made in the treatment of severe burns. But most important has been the passing of the old fashioned coal or wood stove, the kerosene lamp, and other hazards of past years.

Even now burns and scalds claim about 4,000 lives yearly in the United States, and many additional thousands suffer serious and disfiguring injuries which do not prove fatal.

Lightning Reading Machine
A proposed reading machine which could search the entire library of congress in ten seconds, select all the information on a given subject, and print selected abstracts at the rate of ten a minute, was described to the American chemical society division of chemical literature in Chicago recently.

Five thousand times faster than an existing device called the Rapid Selector, which is said to have searched 50,000 references in five minutes, the proposed machine might become the nucleus of a jointly-supported documentary project, financed on a subscription basis. The machine would make it possible to furnish bibliographic searches in response to any request by return air mail, giving an overnight service to information users.

Land of Cotton
With a population three times that of the United States, every individual in India is clad in cotton fabrics. India is the world's only important producer of jute—on which the world relies for almost all its sacks, its containers for wheat, corn, rice, sugar, etc. Seventy-five per cent of the jute is grown in Pakistan as is also much of the cotton of the Indian Union and Pakistan. Most of the mills, however are within the Union of India.

Manufactured Amino Acids
More is to be heard about amino acids because these organic compounds make up proteins. Their synthesis by modern chemists holds out a promise for a more nutritional diet for both man and animal—and they are destined to play an important role in building new tissues and in speeding recovery for the patient in many types of surgery.

How Farmers Learn
When the farmers of Vermont were asked to name their usual sources of agricultural information, 48 per cent mentioned papers and magazines. Other sources of information were: state extension service, 34 per cent; friends and neighbors, 21 per cent; worked out information for themselves, 11 per cent; radio, 6 per cent; and from government programs 4 per cent.

Treatment For Hogs Which Have Influenza

You take a hog when it has influenza and its throat hurts, it coughs, sweats, and runs a high temperature. But it can't gargle.

Hundreds of cases of influenza in hogs have been reported recently as part of the general "flu picture," according to Dr. L. E. Starr, of the State Health Department.

To find whether the same virus is affecting man and hogs, studies are now being made. Dr. Starr is finding that flu in hogs is apparently being found where first a farmer or his family have been laid up with the illness. From this he thinks it may be deduced that man is giving it to the hog, and not the other way around.

Hogs stop eating, and lose weight. Treatment: The same as with man, the anti-biotics, plus good sanitation. A hog shouldn't lie in a "hog bed" any more than a man should, and if he does, he may contract pneumonia, which in hogs is dangerous.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED

Mrs. B. H. Roberts, Mrs. Rupert Parrish and Miss Verna Collins honored Miss Jackie Waters, bride-elect, with a miscellaneous shower last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Roberts. The living room was beautifully decorated with an arrangement of yellow gladioli. The dining table was centered with an Irish linen cloth; an arrangement of white spiraea and narcissus in a crystal glass bowl formed the centerpiece, with white candles in candelabra holders at each end.

Miss Verna Collins greeted the guests at the door and presented them to the receiving line, Mrs. B. H. Roberts, Mrs. W. S. Finch, Miss Jackie Waters, Mrs. C. O. Bohler and Mrs. Rachel Collins. Mrs. Harry Aycock directed the guests to the dining room, where Mrs. Percy Key presided. A salad course, with individual cakes, decorated with yellow bells, and coffee was served by Misses Becky Edfield and Jo Ann Daughtry. Mrs. Paul Moore kept the bride's book. Mrs. Rupert Parrish and Mrs. F. N. Carter Jr. had charge of the gift room.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Choice of Lines, Color Contrast Help Tall Women Dress Properly

By Erta Haley

Fashionable Faillie

IF YOU'RE fortunate enough to be tall like many of the good models, then get rid of the slouch which you have thought would subtract inches from your height. Don't use a lot of fuss and detail in your dress in the hope that it will make people forget you're tall. That's the consensus from experts to the tall girl. The girl with height can wear clothes beautifully and look elegant. When properly groomed, she can be the envy of her shorter sisters.

Contrasting colors and horizontal lines are recommended for tall girls, but if this same girl has a lovely slender figure, she is told to emphasize her lines by repeating in dress. This, too, is good advice because whatever the asset it should be brought out with proper wearing apparel.

However, if the tall girl has a thin angular face and figure she should use horizontal lines to play down the poor points. For example, don't expose the forehead with a tall hat that sits on the back of the head. Select a wide-brimmed hat which covers the forehead and at the same time gives a horizontal line.

Never repeat angularity with vertical, straight or droopy lines. They'll only succeed in making you look ungainly.

Current Fashions
Aid Lanky Girls

Have you noticed the wealth of plaids, stripes and bulky sweaters which are being shown? These are

This cat on a fall faillie dress from the collection of a New York designer shows simple but elegant lines. The jacket is yoked below the shoulders and fastens with two-toned gold buttons and eyes. A choker necklace, perky hat worn to the side, and simple pumps complete the refreshing costume.

Break Figure
Below Waist

One of the basic rules in choosing a suit, if you are tall is to break the silhouette below the waistline. There are several good ways to do this. One is to use color contrast, a light colored jacket and dark skirt. Another good way, especially if you are ample hipped, is to wear a long jacket with the break coming well below the waistline.

When the tall girl is top heavy she should wear a long dark jacket over a print dress. This plays down the large torso and still gives the color break with which to shorten the figure.

Avoid Tuck-In Blouse
If You Are Tall

The long torso blouse is perfect for the tall girl. The blouse with the tuck-in, high-waist skirts should be avoided.

If you are angular, wear the large ruff that comes with so many new blouses. If you are slim and tall, wear the large bows. If you are tall and heavy, wear the slimming revers.

Round-shouldered girls should not wear the round drawing neck-line for it simply accentuates the error. Keep the neckline flat with the back and wear a bolero whenever possible.

Tall girls should not wear the tight narrow skirts. They simply emphasize height. The droopy look, too, is to be avoided. Use draped skirts, snappy pleated ones or those with the peg pockets that give a suggestive horizontal line.

Sport Clothes Demand Special Attention
Tall slim girls would do well to choose swim suits with shirring and a voluminous skirt to hide their bony areas.

Another good selection in a swim suit is the soft dressmaker type with the shirred or gathered top. Tall girls, whether slim or heavy, should never permit themselves to be seen in shorts. Wear pedal pushers or feminized slacks.

Never have your slacks and skirt match. Break the neckline flat with the back and wear a bolero whenever possible.

In riding outfits, wear contrasting colored jacket and breeches. If your hips are too full, wear dark jodhpurs with a solid or checked long jacket.

Between Us..

JOHN BEAVER

One of our prettiest and most popular matrons was driving a group of college girls around in Atlanta a few week-ends ago when she was stopped by a policeman and asked for her driving license. Of course, like every other member of the female sex, she had left it at home in her other purse. He questioned her a bit as to who she was and where she had found so many girls. He never seemed to appear in court concerning her license plate. She didn't have to pay a fine after all. It seems the girls kept their fingers crossed, which could have helped out the situation some. When you make "A" in piano at Wesleyan Conservatory it's really something to be proud of. Betty Smith was being outstanding in work in all her studies since entering Wesleyan two years ago. This past quarter she was one of few students to make an "A" in piano. You only have to hear Betty play to know the talent is there. — Marion Johnston (Mrs. Jones) had quite a thrill this week as she entertained her roommate she had when they were in college together at Brenau. Mrs. Geo. Stelges was here giving a lecture to volunteer workers of the American Red Cross. She is certainly a very attractive person and charmed her audience as she talked. — You fishermen who sit in a boat all day just wishing for a bite would have had cause to be a bit jealous if you could have seen twelve big shad wiggle from one long string the past week from two prominent fishermen came in proudly displaying their catch. Mr. Dornley and Hubert Parrish were only gone a few hours, but long enough to have fishermen's luck. — Dr. R. J. H. DeLoach is having a wonderful time enjoying the Florida sunshine with friends that he knew and loved when he was working as a field man with Armour & Co. in Chicago. Since Dr. DeLoach's accident last fall as he was driving to Athens to an alumni meeting of his class, he has been having to stay in most of the time. These friends sent their car up from Winter Haven for him and he has been entertained constantly since he arrived there. — Just a glimpse of Louise up from Savannah to be with her sister, Julia Helen Moss, while their father is away. — Will see you AROUND TOWN.

DR. WHITESEIDT IMPROVES IN SAVANNAH HOSPITAL

Friends of Dr. J. H. Whiteside will be glad to learn of his gradual improvement in the Central of Georgia Hospital, Savannah, where he has been carried during the week end. While enroute home two weeks ago from a trip to his daughter in Texas, he became ill in New Orleans, and was confined there for several days until his condition permitted his transfer to Savannah. He is now receiving company, it is understood.

DOUBLE DECK CLUB

Members of the Double Deck Bridge Club and other friends were delightfully entertained Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. H. H. Macon Sr. Her home on Savannah avenue was attractive with a variety of spring flowers. A salad was served with coffee. China decorator plates went to Mrs. Devane Watson for club high score. Mrs. Hoke Brunson for visitors' high, and to Mrs. Percy Bland for cut. Others playing were Mrs. Percy Averitt, Mrs. Arnold Rose, Mrs. Grady Davis, Mrs. Jack Carlton, Mrs. D. L. Davis, Mrs. Perry Kennedy, Mrs. Bob Thompson, Mrs. Thad Morris and Mrs. Sidney Lanier.

WESTSIDE P.T.A.

The Westside P.T.A. met Tuesday afternoon with two three-hour sessions in attendance. Mrs. Paul Nesmith, president, presided over the business session. An inspiring devotion was given by Mrs. Harold Hagins, speaker. T. L. Hardensberger, guest reviewer, gave an interesting talk on educational systems of the Orient. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Hotchkiss, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Ben Grady Nesmith.

PARTIES FOR MISS JONES

Miss Sara Betty Jones who will be married to George Cook in a lovely ceremony Sunday afternoon at the Primitive Baptist church is being honored at a number of lovely parties.

Tuesday evening of last week Miss Frances Armstrong and Mrs. Emory Deal entertained with a linen shower at the home of Miss Armstrong on College Boulevard. Pink flowering peach formed pretty decorations for the rooms where twenty guests assembled. Attractive prizes in games were won by Miss Betty Jean Mikell and Mrs. James Crittendon. Party sandwiches and Coca-Colas were served. Miniature view boxes with satin bows caught with a small spray of flowers were given as favors. On Thursday evening a compliment to Miss Jones was the delightful party and kitchen shower given by Miss Susie Coffia and Miss Peggy Jo Burke at the home of Miss Coffia. Pink gladioli decorated the home and dainty refreshments consisted of lime sherbet in gingerale, fancy sandwiches and mints. Fifteen guests were present. Tuesday evening Miss Patsy Odom, Miss Diane Waters and Miss Ann Nevil who will serve as attendants for Miss Jones, entertained with a party at the home of Miss Patsy Odom. Refreshments consisted of lime sherbet in gingerale, fancy sandwiches and mints. Fifteen guests were present. Tuesday evening Miss Patsy Odom, Miss Diane Waters and Miss Ann Nevil who will serve as attendants for Miss Jones, entertained with a party at the home of Miss Patsy Odom. Refreshments consisted of lime sherbet in gingerale, fancy sandwiches and mints. Fifteen guests were present.

VISITORS FETED

A lovely party was given Friday afternoon at the Forest Heights Country Club with Mrs. Frank Hook, Mrs. Julian Hodges, Mrs. Charles Olliff Jr. and Mrs. J. G. Smith entertaining in honor of Miss Louise Lisle and Miss Maude Thornton, of Kentucky, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Knight. On the menu of the club room was a beautiful arrangement of waterfalls, red and white gladioli. Glad-olli were used on the banquet table and a large arrangement of red and white gladioli decorated the room. Colored biddies were on the refreshment plates, which held lemon cake, cakes topped with whipped cream, sandwiches and coffee. Coca-Colas were served during the game. Costume jewelry was presented to the honor guests. For high score Miss Lisle received a camellia plant; for second high an oriental plant and for Mrs. Lannie Simmons, and a small plant were given. Mrs. J. F. Spiro for cut and Mrs. F. C. Parker Jr. for low. Guests for twelve tables were entertained.

RULES ANNOUNCED IN PRICE CONTROL

Operations of District Office Have Been Established in Full Detail Now Effective.

Operations in the Savannah District Office of Price Stabilization are beginning to shift into high gear.

Since opening, March 5, with G. Elliott Hagan, of Savannah, as acting director, the office has received for enforcement a number of regulations affecting merchants, farmers, automobile dealers and even the housewives.

Among these are: GCPR Supplemental Regulation No. 5, amendment No. 1, which authorizes dealers to pass along the exact dollar and cents amount of a 3 1/2 per cent increase granted manufacturers of new cars.

CPR 6, amendment No. 1, which rolls back manufacturers' ceiling prices on new cars.

CPR 7, which places retail merchants selling men's and women's apparel, shoes, furniture and 75 per cent of the items sold in department stores under a "margin" type of price control.

CPR 8, which places a ceiling of 45.33 cents a pound for all future contracts on a grade and staple of cotton known as "white and extra white, middling 16-18 inch." Comparable prices are set for other grades.

CPR 10, which rolled back the price of soap and cleaning agents to December, 1950, thus nullifying increases put into effect by most manufacturers in mid-January of this year.

CPR 11, which rolled back the menu prices in restaurants to those which prevailed on July 1, 1950.

Details of all regulations may be obtained at the Savannah District Office of Price Stabilization, Blumenthal Building, Savannah, Ga.

Minkovitz & Sons Share With Employees

The Minkovitzs of the H. Minkovitz & Sons, with department stores in Statesboro, Savannah and Douglas, announced this week that the employees of the three stores had recently received a bonus under a profit-sharing plan inaugurated by the company last year. This bonus was paid to all regular and semi-regular employees in addition to the special Christmas bonus distributed each year.

Mr. Minkovitz stated that the profit-sharing plan was set up by the board of directors of the company last year, and the bonus paid recently is the employees' share, under the plan for 1950. He also stated that a group insurance plan soon will be made available to their employees, with the company participating in the cost.

At a recent meeting held in each of the Minkovitz stores the management expressed their appreciation to the personnel for the part they had played in making 1950 a successful year. "We found that our employees are highly pleased with and enthusiastic over the operation of these new plans," Mr. Minkovitz said.

Teachers College Group Dine at Henry Grady

A dinner at 6 p. m. this (Thursday) evening in the Henry Grady Hotel, Atlanta, will bring together Georgia Teachers College alumni and staff members attending the convention of the Georgia Education Association to be held through Saturday. The faculty delegation will include Donald Hackett, participant in an industrial arts demonstration Friday; Dr. Fielding Russell, member of a Saturday English panel; Cameron Bresseth, president of the state business section group, and Miss Louise Bennett, secretary of the Georgia Council Teachers of English.

WAS THIS YOU?

You are a young matron and you have two daughters. Wednesday morning you were shopping in a gray coat and brown alligator shoes and brown bag. Your hair is light brown. If the lady described will call at the Times office she will be given two tickets to the picture, "Let's Dance," showing today and Friday at the Georgia Theater.

After receiving her tickets, if the lady will call at the Statesboro Floral Shop she will be given a lovely orchid with compliments of the proprietor, Bill Holloway.

The lady described last week was Mrs. J. H. Strickland, of Register. She called for her tickets Friday afternoon, attended the show, received her orchid, and phoned her appreciation.

4-H CLUBS HAVE TALENT DISPLAY

Annual Event Planned For Evening Of April 7th In Laboratory High Auditorium

The annual 4-H Club talent night is scheduled for April 7, Miss Beverly Brannen, county president, announces.

Miss Brannen stated that the program would again be held in the Laboratory High School auditorium. Each of the twelve organized clubs will present two entries, one for the boys and one for the girls. Many of these entries will have more than one clubster in them. However, several entries will feature individual clubsters that possess outstanding talent in various fields.

The twelve clubs are now holding or have already held their own contests to determine their community winners.

Mrs. Rufus G. Brannen, Mrs. K. D. Wildes and Mrs. Delmas Rushing are arranging for judges for the annual event. Winners here will compete with the winners from some twenty-five other Southeast Georgia counties in the summer and then go to the state contest in late summer, if they win in the district.

The talent program is slated for 8 p. m. However, Miss Brannen stated that another show would be going on through the afternoon at the Recreation Center, and other places, to determine the best cooks, seamstresses, speakers, rifle marksmen, livestock judge, and so on, also to name the county winners for the district contest.

The afternoon program deals more with the projects the clubsters have been carrying on through the year.

BANK ISSUES STOCK UNDER NEW TERMS

Bulloch County Bank Has Made Vast Progress In Its Program Since April, 1948

It has been a long time since the days of 1944, when on April 14th, the Bulloch County Bank opened for its first day of business. Then a dollar would buy a dollar's worth of goods and services, and to obtain necessary capital to open the new bank was quite an accomplishment. Former stockholders of the Bank of Statesboro were offered the privilege of taking stock in the new bank on a pro-rata basis of $25 per share for the old stock. The bank was opened with capital of $50,000 and paid in surplus of $10,000. Now, not quite seventeen years later, the picture is quite different.

The bank has grown in size as well as in service to this community, and today its capital accounts have grown to $1,000,000. Its assets are $2,000,000. Its capital funds total $232,000, and stockholders have been made happy by the recent action of paying them a 100 per cent stock dividend. Their action in the annual stockholders' meeting in January has become reality in that the new stock is being delivered to them, share for share, which means that the capital stock of the bank has been increased from the original $50,000 to $1,000,000. This means an increase in the shares outstanding from 500 shares of $100 stock to 10,000 shares of $100 stock.

Within the next few weeks an additional change will be made, in that the par value of the shares will be reduced from the present $100 per share to $25 per share, or from the present 1,000 shares of $100 stock to 4,000 shares of $25 stock. Officials, feel that this change is very sound in that it provides a stronger capital structure, which of course is the real strength of the bank.

AS TO MACHINERY

Firms and Institutions Of Bulloch County Are Given "Green Light" by Officials

The federal government has acted to help business firms, farmers and institutions of Bulloch county to continue in operation so that the nation's existing equipment in the production of goods and services may be maintained at peak efficiency.

According to information received here from Merrill C. Lofton, regional director of the U. S. Department of Commerce in Atlanta, arrangements have been made for warehouses, factories, retail and wholesale establishments, service shops, farms, hospitals, schools, libraries, churches and federal, state and local government agencies in the county to obtain equipment and supplies for maintenance, repair and operation of their present facilities.

The action was necessary because of the government's program now being administered by the Commerce Department's National Production Authority to conserve for remobilization purposes certain raw materials in short supply. Under this program portions of such products as steel, copper, aluminum and so forth, of which there is a relative shortage in the country today, are being diverted for use in the manufacture of war materials, resulting in a growing scarcity of such materials for other purposes.

So, in order that equipment now being used in business establishments and institutions of Bulloch county in
